"Crow" League Re-organized Five Teams Represented

Pass Towns and Lethbridge Will Play Home and Home Games on Schedule to be Arranged—Prospects for Keen Competition in League

Two meetings were held in Blairmore during the week, the result of which was to decide on re-organizing the "Old Crow" league, to include Lethbridge, Bellevue, Hillcrest, Bellevue and Coleman. W. Chappell is president of the league, and honorary presidents are O. E. S. Whiteside, G. Kellock and G. Vissac. J. McDougall of Blairmore is secretary.

Coleman was represented at the meetings by Angelo Gentile, who for some years has been an enthusiastic booster for hockey and baseball in Coleman, and who will likely manage the Coleman team again this winter. W. Wright of Coleman was appointed a league vice-president to represent Coleman.

Though playing in the Crow league, Blairmore will also have the right to enter the senior playoffs. Walter Scott attended a meeting at Calgary of representatives of Calgary, Drumheller, Turner Valley and Okotoks, to try and have Blairmore included in their series, but owing to expense in transportation to play games between the various clubs, Blairmore was not admitted, though exhibition games will probably be played.

Efforts will be made by Coleman to have Lethbridge play here on Christmas Day and a return game at Lethbridge on New Year's Day. Most of last year's team will be on hand. Sadish has left the district, but it is possible that Velprava and Anderson of Blairmore may be secured to strengthen Coleman. A schedule will be arranged at an early date.

Coleman Club Officers

A meeting of players was held on Monday afternoon, when officers were appointed as follows: President, A. Bowling; Secretary, R. Shone; manager, W. Wright; trainer, J. Korman. The members decided on holding a dance on Nov. 25, to raise funds to purchase supplies. It is hoped the team will be given good support by the public in their effort to give good hockey this season.

Polish Hall Dance Enjoyable

The Polish hall was the gathering place on Monday evening for a large number of people, young and old, who enjoyed the dance, which continued till 3 a.m. Mrs. Altermatt's orchestra gave a snappy program, and Violet Ray gave an added touch of gaiety by singing vocal refrains to some of the jazz dances. Some of the tricky steps by the younger jazz artists furnished considerable amusement to the older folks. Most of the Pass towns were represented by visitors, and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Skating Rink Will Re-Open Soon

Arrangements Being Discussed
With View to Providing Winter Sport

Asked by The Journal as to the skating and curling rink re-opening, H. C. McBurney, president of the rink company, stated that negotiations were being discussed, but he could give nothing definite for publication.

It is reported that A. E. Knowles, who for some years has been caretaker, had offered to undertake the operation of the rink if satisfactory terms could be arranged in connection with rental and light and water.

It is hoped that the difficulty which loomed up a few weeks ago with the decision of the rink directors not to re-open the rink, will have been overcome by the time the next issue appears in print.

An Explanation

Tom Parry desires to inform his Coleman friends that he is not dead yet, but is busy driving nails, and building a nice little home in Sunnyside, Calgary, in sunny Alberta. "That Island back east only offered him a grave," he states.

2,400 People Converse With Ease Through a Small Lead Tube

Imagine the roar of 2,400 voices confined within the walls of one huge room! What a babel of confusion if the people in that room should try to shout messages to each other! Yet, through a lead tube, only 2½ inches in diameter, 2,400 people may converse at the same time with ease, without confusion and in strict privacy.

This lead tube (illustrated in section above) is the casing of a telephone cable manufactured by the Montreal plant of the Northern Electric Company, containing over 1,200 pairs of insulated wires, each pair connecting at one end with a telephone instrument and at the other a central exchange. In the large Canadian cities there are scores of such telephone cables.

Boy Scouts Organize and Appoint Leaders

Patrol Leaders Geo. Snosdr. jr. and Lorenzo Richards Elected and 14 Boys Join

The move to re-organize the Boy Scouts was originated among former members of the troop here, and several citizens have promised their support to the boys. On Wednesday evening they met in St. Albin's parish hall and two patrols were lined up. Mr. Howarth, president of the association, was present, and Rev. A. D. Currie, secretary.

G. Snosdr and L. Richards were appointed provisional patrol leaders, and they enrolled the Scouts in their respective patrols. The boys are very keen to develop their knowledge of Scout laws and are concentrating on preparing for their proficiency tests. It is hoped that as soon as they raise the necessary funds by their own efforts, uniforms will be purchased, and the big goal in view is the summer camp next July.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting of Summit Lodge A. F. & A. M. on Thursday evening, an amusing humorous sketch was given by Sid Short, R. F. Barnes and Maurice W. Cooke. These gentlemen possess histrionic ability and their presentation was heartily applauded and appreciated. There were a number of visitors present from Blairmore and Hillcrest.

Armistice Day Service at Blairmore

Canadian Legion Honors Memory of Men Who "Went West"
in Great War

There being no service held in Coleman, those who desired to commemorate the day attended the service held in the Orpheum theatre, Blairmore. Blairmore branch Canadian Legion, with several members from Coleman, paraded at their club, and marched in style to the theatre, headed by Corporal Weaver, R. C. M. P., and members of the provincial police detachment.

Major Farmer presided, and on the stage were Mrs. McKay, regent of Blairmore I. O. D. E.; J. G. Gillis, who delivered the main address; Rev. A. D. Currie, chaplain of the Legion; Rev. J. W. Smith, W. J. Gresham, honorary president of the Legion, and W. J. Fisher, president.

The honor roll was displayed and "Roll Call" was made by W. J. Gresham in honor of dead and absent comrades. The "Last Post" was sounded by Drummer Lowe, formerly of the Royal Garrison Artillery.

Following the service the ex-service men marched to the cemetery, where poppy wreaths were placed on the soldiers' graves and the salute given and the "Last Post" sounded.

On Saturday and Monday a large number of Veterans' poppies were sold in Blairmore by Legion members.

The Problem of Narcotics

The evil of narcotics is one that strikes both directly and indirectly at the home.

There are about 8,000 drug addicts, or dope fiends, as they are more commonly called, in Canada. They consume, and here is an even more startling figure, about $80,000 worth of drugs every day.

The dangerous and widespread use of narcotics in Canada, is that drug addicts breed drug addicts; and one of them, who will try to pull other victims into the circle in which he finds himself.

The four main drugs that have assailed Canada are opium, morphine, cocaine and heroin. Opium is the juice of the white poppy, cultivated mainly in Hindustan and Asiatic Turkey, and thickened by evaporation.

Opium would not be so important to us, but for the fact that other drugs that are used most extensively in Canada, come from opium.

About one hundred and twenty-five years ago, a French chemist found that he could produce another drug, morphine, which was named after the god of sleep, Morphus, from opium.

Sixty-five years later another chemist, this one an Austrian, found by experimenting with coca leaves that he could produce cocaine.

Just thirty years ago, a German chemist found he could take from opium still another drug, which was called heroin. It is three or four times stronger than morphine, and is blamed largely for the increase in drug usage on this continent since the war. At first heroin was not believed to be habit-forming, and was used on that assumption. But two years after its discovery, it was found to be as bad, if not worse, in getting a grip on its victim. It has been renounced by the medical profession as not at all necessary for their purpose. But it continues in use throughout the world, a dangerous drug, without any redeeming feature or excuse for its existence.

All these three drugs, morphine, cocaine and heroin, are white powders, bitter to the taste and soluble in water. All are deleterious, both mentally and physically. The habitual use of any of them will bring death with inexorable certainty. Opium is the slowest to kill, morphine, the next; while heroin is the most rapid of all.

For example, to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit; five ounces of alcohol is considered a fatal dose. Five ounces of morphine taken at one time will kill fifteen hundred men.

Chemistry has given us these drugs, and passed them on to the medical profession. The doctors used them, with the exception of heroin, to assuage pain. But mankind was not satisfied with that, and the use of these drugs spread to people who did not need them. Now the combined wisdom of chemistry, medicine, and governments, is not sufficient to strike down the peril.

There are fantastic stories at times of people who have become drug addicts because they were given one of these drugs in a time of need, and that one administration made them addicts. These are very rare cases, and hardly need to be taken into consideration. The use of drugs is spread about almost entirely by people who profit greatly by creating other addicts.

The use of all forms of poisonous drugs are consumed every year by the human race. Less than one per cent of the total consumption is necessary for medicinal purposes.

Before heroin came into such general use, adults were in the main the only addicts. The dealers in heroin, however, recruit among their customers young children. The average age of the heroin addict is about 22 years of age, which means that he must have become addicted some years before he was twenty.

Again to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit; It takes some time of regular drinking before a youth becomes a regular drunkard. Not so with heroin. An ounce of heroin can make two thousand addicts within a week. As well as that, a drunkard sometimes serves as a useful example, with which to point the warning finger. In fact a drunkard as a general rule, will advise others to keep away from the stimulant that caused his downfall. Not so the heroin addicts. He begins right away to drag others into the net. He is used as a recruiting agent for the operators who are making the money. The more heroin he gets, the more he craves. He is told that in order to get more of it, he must introduce more customers. And so the peril spreads.

Airing a Grievance

Getting Irritation Out Of Your System Makes You Feel Better

There is wisdom in letting people talk out their grievances. There is no other way to get rid of them. That is the reason why democracy thrives through free speech. If people have a grievance, let them talk it out. If they have a grouch, let them express it. Repression makes inner ugliness to become a poison. If you are wise, you will never seek to keep a man from expressing his irritations at his fellow men. Moreover, if you are really wise, you will understand how to deal with people who have a grievance. Let them get it out and they will have an opportunity to deal with their hearts after their emotions have had opportunity to express themselves.

Protection For Miners

Companies Supplying Men With "Fit" Hats Free Of Charge

The "fit" hat of war days has found its peace time career in serving as protective headgear for miners. D. G. Sinclair, chief inspector of the Ontario Department of Mines, who has advocated the use of the helmets by miners, has reported that many lives have been saved by their use. Several mining companies are supplying miners with the "iron derby" free of charge.

Fighting Forest Fire At Night

Miner's Carbide Lamp Used By Rangers In Work Of Extinguishing Fires

Equipment is now in use by the Forest Service Department of the Interior, which enables rangers to fight forest fires at night, when such work is most valuable, owing to the fires dying down at dark. The chief item of special equipment is the miners' carbide lamp, which is attached to the fire-fighter's cap and so is located just above his forehead. This leaves his hands free to work and gives the light just where desired, both for travel in reaching the fire and for the work of extinguishing the fire.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Anæmia Responsible For Most Of The Ills Of Girls and Women

Medical science shows that most of the ills that afflict growing girls and women are due to the fact that the blood is either too quiet or too thin. The anæmia is the cause of low spirits, languidness, the poor appetite, breathlessness, and the aching backs that make a burden of life to the young person. There is no need for any woman to suffer in this way, for all the miseries of anæmia can be quickly banished by taking Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills. These pills create an abundance of new rich blood—their wonderful reputation is based on that.

Thousands of country girls and ailing women have characterfully testified to the fact that they owe their restoration to good health to Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills. One of these is Norman Willmott, of P.E.I., who says: "I am among those who can strongly recommend Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills. Before I began using them I was in an extremely poor condition, and could not eat either could I eat, and was constantly growing weaker. I got medical advice from a doctor, but did not seem to get any help. I then, on the recommendation of a friend, I began to take Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills. By the time I had taken a couple of boxes there was no doubt they were doing me good. I continued their use until I had taken six or seven boxes when I was again in the best of health. I always keep Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills in my pocket, and any number of my family feel run-down the pills soon put them in good condition.

The best time to begin taking Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills is when you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do so the sooner you will regain your old-time energy. You can get Dr. Willmott's Pink Pills at any drug store or mail order house for 50 cents a box from The Dr. Willmott's Medicine Co., Brooklyn, Ont.

Power Of Sound Waves

If Highly Pitched They Will Do Much Damage

Living creatures can be struck dead by sound waves too highly pitched for the human ear to hear them, writes T. C. Bridges. These high frequency waves—called super-sonics—have been tried on animals and produced instant death. The sound appears to shatter the blood corpuscles, and death is as sure and sudden as if the creatures had been struck by lightning. Sound can do many things which seem mysterious and almost miraculous. For instance, fire can be extinguished by sound. Some little time ago Mr. Charles Kellogg, of California, gave a demonstration of the power of sound over flame, by drawing a violin bow across a piece of aluminum extinguishing a burning gas jet at fifty feet. Sound vibrations can not only break a wine-glass but can damage a building. It is suspected that the deep, vibrating notes of organ can cause vibrations which actually weaken the structure of a church or cathedral. The latest wonder of sound is to make an aeroplane light up the aerodrome at which it is arriving merely by a note of its siren. This was done by a note at Newark, New Jersey.

Canada's Economic Conditions

Confidence Is Felt By Big Financial Men In the Future of the Dominion

In the face of the serious decline in prices of stocks, Premier Mackenzie King recently made a staff statement in his newspaper in which he declared that economic conditions in Canada had never been sounder, nor in the development of the Dominion greater, if one was to judge by those indices used by the large financial and insurance companies.

He said that the confidence shown by foreign investors should be a factor in inspiring confidence in the Dominion and its future.

It was at times like these, said Mr. King, that one realized the importance of stability in laws and government of business in a country.

Canada's position was secure, he thought, and he pointed to the growth all along the line of primary and secondary industries in the country. The fact that capital for investment was so freely offered in Canada showed the confidence that was felt in the future of the Dominion.

Premier Tolmie, of British Columbia, To Be Present At Celebration Of Mount Rainier's Discovery

Nearly 100 years ago Dr. William Fraser Tolmie, physician of the Hudson's Bay Company, at Fort Vancouver, Washington, trudged up the Puyallup River to Mount Rainier, the first white man to reach a peak known as a scenic resort.

In 1933, the centenary of this expedition, Dr. Tolmie's son, premier of British Columbia, will be the guest of honor at a celebration of Mount Rainier's discovery.

The premier has accepted the invitation of the Rainier National Park advisory board to take the leading part in the ceremony a little over three years hence.

Joint Branch Line Programme Announced

Thornton and Beatty Publish Plans For Alberta Railways

Announcement has been made jointly by Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, of the branch line programme to be commenced in 1930 by the Northern Alberta railways. The presidents of the two transcontinental systems, which jointly own the Alberta railways, point out that under the agreement for acquisition the purchasers undertook to build within five years sixty miles of branch lines, in addition to the branches under construction by the government of Alberta at the time the purchase was made.

To meet the traffic needs of the district, and to fulfill the stipulations previously made, the directors of the Northern Alberta railways have, therefore, decided to recommend to the government and to the directors of the Canadian Pacific, the commencement in 1930 of a line from Hythe to Rolla, a distance of fifty miles, and from Fairview westerly, a distance of 15 miles. In addition, the Northern Alberta railways will, during the coming year, undertake to investigate the traffic possibilities of an extension west from Spirit River and from a point at or near Grimshaw, to serve the Battle River district in which considerable settlement has taken place.

The programme announced is of considerable magnitude and confirms the statement already issued that in the opinion of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies, the most important and immediate work in the development of the Peace River area is the construction of branch line mileage.

A Remarkable Tree

White Pine Tree In Ontario Yields 17 Cords Of Wood

Remarkable in size, symmetry and the soundness of its wood, a white pine tree which has been living 40 or 50 years or more on the farm of Norman Reid in Coulson Lake, in the North Bay (Ont.) district, was utilized recently for wood.

It yielded 17 cords. The pine measured 145 feet from the tip to the base, which showed a diameter of five feet, 10 inches. Twenty feet higher up the diameter was but six inches less.

The first branch was three feet through and the second two feet six inches. The stump bears evidence that the tree was felled either completely or partially, possibly half a century ago, remaining in a wonderful state of preservation through the changing seasons.

Meeting Of Two Seas

Uniting Of Mediterranean and Red Sea Foretold By Jules Verne

August last witnessed the diamond jubilee of the opening of the Suez Canal. In 1869 the waters of the Mediterranean and the Red Sea met and mingled for the first time, although the canal was not opened for traffic until November. It is interesting to remember that Jules Verne imagined an underground tunnel uniting the two seas, running under the isthmus, and that he makes Captain Nemo take his under-sea craft—the prototype of the submarine—right through it.

Canadian Flyers Organize

First Convention Of Its Kind Held At Fort William

With nearly 20 delegates from coast to coast in attendance, the first all-Canada aviation convention was held recently at Fort William. J. A. Sully, president of the Winnipeg Flying Club, was chosen chairman of the initial meeting.

The first business of the convention was the organization of a central body of the flying clubs throughout the Dominion, to be known officially as the "Canadian Flying Club Association." This association will be official spokesman of the various clubs throughout the Dominion, and will attempt to solve many of the problems which today face aviators from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Delegates from the several clubs will be known as a central body of governors and this body annually will choose a president, five vice-presidents, one honorary secretary and an honorary treasurer. The vice-presidents will be regional officers, from the following districts:

British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Thunder Bay district, Ontario east of Thunder Bay and Quebec and the Maritimes.

ASK SUSPENSION OF MONEY GRANTS FOR MILITIA

Winnipeg.—Demand for cessation of all money grants by the dominion provincial and municipal governments for military purposes was contained in a resolution passed by the all-Canadian Congress of Labor in an annual convention here.

Abolition of the entire cadet movement from Canadian schools was also demanded in the resolution, which urged that no further money grants be made for cadets.

Heated opposition by a number of delegates to the clauses demanding that no money grants be made for military purposes by the various governments kept the issue before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon and only by a small margin was the resolution passed.

Alleged opposition by certain United States Indians operating in Canada was brought out in debate on a report of the executive board reviewing labor conditions in Canada. Feeling against the International Labor Union was manifest by several speakers. The American firms were alleged to have demanded that no other unions but those belonging to the international union be given employment.

It was charged in the executive board's report that the craft unions, controlled by the American Federation of Labor, were responsible for the "impotence of the workers, politically and economically, in their own country, and responsible for the slight regard in which labor had been held in Canada."

The congress decided to request the Ontario government that boarding schools be constructed at intervals of not more than 120 miles in the territory west of the Great Lakes to the Manitoba boundary.

German Air Liner Wrecked

Six Persons Were Killed and Two Injured in Crash

Morden Park, Surrey, England.—Six persons were killed and two injured in the crash of a big German air liner bound for Berlin from Croydon. Three of those killed were passengers and three were crew members.

One of the survivors was Prince Eugen Schaumberg-Lippe, second cousin of a former reigning prince of one of the oldest German royal houses. He was acting as second pilot. The prince was injured but is expected to recover. The other injured man, Lieut.-Commander Glen Kidston, widely known racing motorist, suffered cuts.

The crash which was followed by a machine bursting into flames, is believed to have been caused by the pilot flying into a hillside during a fog.

Behind the remnants of the air liner was a large tree which had been torn from the ground by the big machine's last lunge. The crash and the burst of flames followed instantaneously, and after a few blazing seconds, there remained only the charred wreckage in which the victims had been trapped.

Coming To Canada

Thousands of Mennonites Would Leave Russia For This Dominion
Moscow.—Three thousand Siberian peasants of German descent, mostly Mennonites, have received passports to migrate to Canada. Before granting the passports the Soviet authorities exacted full payment of taxes and specified that the emigrants deposit all their possessions in Soviet banks, since exportation of rubles is forbidden.

Seven thousand of the would-be emigrants are concentrated in camps around Moscow obtaining passports at the rate of 100 per day.

Dog Rescues

Wounded Trapper

Carried Note To Nearest Camp and Returned With Help

Nakina, Ont.—Once again man owes his life to the intelligence and faithfulness of a dog. Andrew Sytiski, 22, accidentally shot himself when he drew a revolver from his holster while hunting at an isolated camp at Pine Lake.

Realizing his predicament and knowing that he could not reach the nearest trapper's cabin himself, Sytiski scribbled a note and fastening it to his dog's collar, ordered the animal to proceed to the nearest camp, owned by Thomas Hughes.

The dog ran through three miles of bush and swam a river to reach Hughes' cabin.

Hughes, with the animal leading the way, reached Sytiski's camp and after rendering first aid, brought the man to his own camp. A railway speaker brought the wounded man to Nakina, and he was later rushed to Port Arthur by train.

Aviators Killed In Montreal

Seaplane Of Canadian Government Crashed While Being Tested

Montreal.—Pilot Officer Paul Gartner Stanley, 23, of Toronto, and flying officer John L. McLaughlin, 35, of Montreal, were almost instantly killed when a Canadian Vickers "Vedette" seaplane which they were testing for the Canadian government crashed in a field near Saulx River. The plane buried its nose in the soft surface of the field and by the time the two airmen were released they were dead, crushed in the wreckage.

McLaughlin was a test inspector and Stanley was flying the seaplane. They had made a previous test flight early in the day but the weather conditions were not suitable for flying and a second flight was attempted in the afternoon. It was believed that the machine had gone into a spin at a time when, owing to the low "ceiling" the pilot was unable to recover before reaching the ground.

Families Migrating From Germany Deprived Of Everything Is Report

New York.—The following wireless from Kiel, Germany, was published in the New York Times:

"Fifty-three peasant families comprising 323 persons, whose ancestors migrated from Germany to Russia under Catherine the Great, and, together with about 5,000 other peasants desire to migrate to Canada, arrived here aboard the Soviet steamer 'Dershinski,' without money or food."

"According to their own statement they were searched bodily before sailing and deprived of all money and food."

"It is rumored the Canadian government has already agreed to pay for their transportation to Canada and to provide the peasants with agricultural tools and other necessities."

Cheers Greet Premier

MacDonald Receives Hearty Welcome From Members Of House

London, Eng.—Taking his place on the front bench of the House of Commons for the first time since his return from his notable visit to America, Premier MacDonald was greeted with loud cheers from the members. Many of them rose to their feet and waved their order papers in salute.

Mr. MacDonald, resuming the leadership of the government in the Commons, found a packed house awaiting what promises to be a highly important utterance on unemployment from Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment.

This is an issue that friends and foes of labor are watching with the keenest attention and the government's handling of it has vital bearing on its fate.

Predicts Era Of Disease

New York Physician Says Slim Conditions In Europe Unbelievable

New York.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, on his return from a twelve week's visit to Europe, said he never saw such abject poverty as in the slums of European cities. He said conditions in the poorer sections were almost unbelievable and predicted they would result in an era of disease. "This country," he said, "must guard itself against that by strict immigration regulations. The examination of aliens must be more thorough and there must be more men to do it."

Senator Copeland is a physician and a former commissioner of health in New York City.

PROBLEMS AWAIT NAVAL PARLEY IN JANUARY

Washington.—In the swing of time toward January and the five-power disarmament conference in London, the government here and officials of the state and navy departments are hard at work upon the case for the United States. While in the main Great Britain and the United States are agreed upon what status it is necessary for each to maintain in the naval and merchant marine class, it has been emphasized here again and again that no satisfactory arrangement may be arrived at without the assent of all the powers concerned, and this opens a wide field for research containing both technical and political elements.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson has been for some weeks past continually in touch with the general board of the navy and he and Under-Secretary of State Joseph C. Cotton have also consulted frequently with President Hoover.

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, a fourth member of the delegation, is expected to stay for some time at the White House, during his present visit here from London, an opportunity will be afforded them for complete canvassing of the whole position. President Hoover places large hope upon the London conference.

The chief problem as the situation is viewed from Washington concerns the powers of France and Italy and Great Britain and geographically as situated in the Mediterranean.

First, France and Italy must arrive at an agreement upon parity, which they may do between themselves. But both France and Italy are opposed to the abolition of the submarine, favored by both Great Britain and the United States.

"The poor man's battleship" has an interesting significance in the Mediterranean wherein is one of the great trade routes of the British Empire.

Another matter which receives attention here is the proposal of France that London results should be validated at Geneva—a suggestion which finds no favor in the United States.

Japan, it is indicated, would like to have her cruiser strength proportionately to the British and American fleets, making her seven to ten instead of as at present.

MENTIONED FOR IMPORTANT POST

Lord Arnold, British paymaster general, who accompanied Ramsay MacDonald on his visit to this country, is being prominently mentioned in British Labor party circles as possible successor to Sir Ernest Howard, British ambassador to the United States, soon to return from Washington.

Americans Settling In Saskatchewan

Many Farmers Coming To Make Homes In Canada

North Portal, Sask.—Despite the wintry weather settlers from the United States are coming to Western Canada. During the past few days six carloads of stock and effects have cleared customs at this port. Alfred Henshaw shipped two cars from Wendell, Minn., to Aneroid, Sask., where he had farmed for some years, but a year ago returned to Minnesota and started in poultry and dairy farming. The call of the broad prairies was too strong.

Frank McKnight, also a Canadian many years ago, shipped two cars from Noley, Minn., to Leslie, Sask., where he is settling and from his brother, while in the Sault years at Portal, N.D. Mr. McKnight was struck by a freight engine, his leg being injured so that he had to be taken to a hospital for treatment. His stock and effects were looked after by Clarence Reed, who was a neighbor in Montana and who also is immigrating to Leslie, Sask., with a car of stock. Mr. McKnight was able to leave the hospital later and left for Leslie on a passenger train.

L. Matzdorf, from Toronto, N.D., shipped a car to Hythe, Alta., where he has taken a homestead. The decision regarding Russia occupied a full day in both the House of Commons and the House of Lords and the upper chamber was occupied with the latest development in the Indian constitutional problem. Such a day is not often experienced, even at Westminster.

The Commons began eagerly, especially Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's report of his mission to the United States, and his subsequent visit to Canada. Scarcely had Mr. MacDonald concluded, when the House of Lords began a debate on the "importunity of the proclamation by Lord Lonsdale, Governor of India, which affirmed the British Government's desire to accord full dominion status to India in the fullness of time."

The doom of the Conservative amendment regarding relations with Russia was speedily sounded in the House of Commons by Right Hon. David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, who wielded the balance of power. Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin had charged Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, with "surrendering" to the Soviet representative in the negotiations leading to resumption of relations. Mr. Henderson denied there had been any surrender.

The foreign secretary stressed that under the new protocol, the governments of Great Britain and Russia would reciprocally confirm the pledge in regard to propaganda immediately the actual exchange of ambassadors took place.

Mr. Lloyd George then indicated the Liberal attitude by describing the break in relations with Russia initiated by the former Conservative Government, when Arcon House, in London, was raided. "It is an act of supreme silliness," he concluded. "I say God speed the foreign secretary."

Several Conservatives supported the Labor Government in the division. These included Lady Astor, John Buchan (novelist), and Robert Boothby, member for Eastern Aberdeen and Kincardine.

The vote approving the government's motion for restoration of relations, marked the first definite accomplishment of Mr. MacDonald's government since other negotiations in the foreign fields, as well as schemes for relief of domestic unemployment, have yet to be submitted for parliamentary approval.

Not a single document expressing approval of the policy which had been pursued, declared Mr. Henderson. Replies received by the government indicated it was generally recognized that the renewal of relations sooner or later was inevitable.

India Favors Idea Of Dominion Status

British Viceroy's Declaration Has Removed Tension From Politics

New Delhi, India.—Opinion in India has now crystallized into definite comment on the Viceroy's historic declaration of November 1, making it clear that the favorable response is wider than might have been expected. The Viceroy's affirmation that India should attain dominion status in the fullness of time, and pointing out a conference should be held in London to clear up relations between British India and the native states of India, is described as removing with one bold stroke all the electric tension from Indian politics.

Anglo-Indian politicians contend that there is no reason to believe that Germany will fail in this mission any more than she did in the others. Officially, the French government insists that there have been no overtures and that the question has been settled by the peace treaty.

The peace treaty has been altered many times, however, as M. Clemenceau said recently he could no longer recognize it as a child of his. Under the peace treaty, the French troops were to remain in the Rhine land until 1923, and at that time the Saar was to be decided by plebiscite whether it would become French or German. All that has been wiped off the boards long ago.

At Versailles, Germany signed away its claim to her colonies: Kamerun, Togo, Southwest Africa, Tanganika, Ruanda-Urundi, New Guinea, Nauru Island, Cores, Formosa, Kouochou and Loochoo. These peoples were placed under mandate to France, Belgium, Japan, and the British dominions of Australia, New Zealand and Union of South Africa.

These former German possessions are no longer colonies, but mandated territories, expensive heirlooms of the war to those who inherited their care. The mandate holders are permitted to spend vast sums of money building up and governing the mandated territories, but get nothing but worries in return.

R.C.M.P. Officers Transferred

Several Stations Reorganized Through Retirement Of Sup't. Ritchie, Edmonton

Ottawa.—A transfer of officers in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been announced by Commissioner Stearns.

The reorganization of several stations followed the retirement of Sup't. James Ritchie, Edmonton, after 38 years of service.

His place will be taken by R. E. Acland, Regina, formerly an inspector but recently promoted to superintendent. He will have charge of the work of the police in northern Alberta.

J. W. Spalding, also of Regina, formerly an inspector, has also been promoted to the rank of superintendent and given charge of the work in southern Saskatchewan.

Staff-Sergeant E. R. Mercer, Regina, has been promoted to the rank of inspector and will have charge of the Regina sub-district.

Gives Report On Settlement

Canadian Congress Of Labor Has Idea To Absorb Immigration

Winnipeg.—Large-scale development of unoccupied areas in Canada through agricultural and industrial development is recommended by the executive board of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, in the board report submitted to the third annual convention. Such a plan is advanced, would absorb immigration to this country without detriment to the Dominion. The co-operative settlement idea advanced by the Labor Congress executive is stated to be based on a plan advanced by Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, M.P., first commissioner of Great Britain. Attention was directed to an interview with Mr. Lansbury published in a current edition of the Canadian Unionist, organ of the All-Canadian Congress of Labor.

Sir Robert was a partner in the firm of Balfour, Williamson and Company. He was well known in Canada and the United States, having lived for 25 years in the States, chiefly in San Francisco.

GERMANY SEEKS RESTORATION OF LOST COLONIES

Paris, France.—Germany, having gained satisfaction of her demand for an early evacuation of the Rhineland by the Allies and seeing experts gathered to discuss her request for a return of the Saar and its rich mines, is now looking ahead to the last of her ambitions, the restoration of her colonies lost by the treaty of Versailles.

French political pessimists contend that there is no reason to believe that Germany will fail in this mission any more than she did in the others. Officially, the French government insists that there have been no overtures and that the question has been settled by the peace treaty.

The peace treaty has been altered many times, however, as M. Clemenceau said recently he could no longer recognize it as a child of his. Under the peace treaty, the French troops were to remain in the Rhine land until 1923, and at that time the Saar was to be decided by plebiscite whether it would become French or German. NOTES AND COMMENTS

Armistice Day in Coleman brought regrets to those who looked for some avenue whereby they might have paid homage to the memory of those who have passed on. Those who could went to Blairmore, where the Canadian Legion had seen to it that the day did not pass by unobserved. Even if only a few had gathered together at 11 a.m. for the two minutes silence, it would have given an opportunity for honoring those whose memory we should ever keep green. It would appear that a re-organization of the Canadian Legion is necessary to provide some means whereby occasions of this nature may be properly observed. Armistice Day is an event in our national life which cannot be overlooked, unless we are to be charged with base ingratitude. That the day was uppermost in some people's minds was evident by the flags on public buildings and other places.

With victories every year in marathon road races by competitors from the Crows Nest Pass, this district has cause to regard them with a touch of pride. In The Lethbridge Herald road race on Monday the honors were won in senior and junior events by Passburg and Bellevue competitors. A. J. Fournier and John Kerr of Passburg were first and second in the senior 3 miles race, and Blake of Bellevue third, while in the junior 14 miles race, in which seventeen entrants started, Jack Beal of Bellevue won easily. Twelve entrants started in the senior race, and all finished. It has been claimed that living in higher altitudes develops one's lung capacity. Hockey players who come from prairie towns claim that they soon get short-winded when playing here. It would appear that there may be a good deal of truth in this. Freddie Lees of Coleman, an entirely home developed product as a runner, is another who some years ago distinguished himself.

As if to confirm this assertion, it has been found that horses carefully bred on the higher ranges of the foothills have greater staying power and are therefore better fitted for long races than those raised at lower altitudes. In fact the suggestion was made last year that the thoroughbred racing stock of England could be improved by importing some of the pedigreed horses from foothills ranches. If this holds good, then both men and horses raised in low altitudes are handicapped when it comes to racing with those who come from the hilly country. It also gives one the thought that here would be an excellent place to establish a training camp for those who aspire to the world's knockout championship. Develop more wind and get the edge on your opponent. Come to the mountains for the secret of success and the elixir of life.

If you wait for somebody else to help you along the pathway of life without first using every effort of your own, then you will not get very far. This applies to towns as well as individuals, for a town is just what we ourselves are. It reflects whether we are progressive or a bunch of "rubes" content to let time take its course and drift with the current. The public is critical—you cannot fool them—and they sum up things just about right in most cases. Enterprise is admired and encouraged, and, like virtue, brings its own reward. Look around and see the towns or cities which have forged ahead, and you will find that it is due to the co-operative effort of storekeepers, business men and everybody who has a stake in the place.

One of the pleasures of the week of the writer of this column is to read the many weekly papers which come to the office. They are a true index of the business, social and general life of the communities in which they are published. Progressive towns have progressive weekly newspapers, for no matter how enterprising a weekly newspaper publisher may be, and how much time and space he may give towards community effort, it is impossible to publish a bright newspaper in a dead town. It is like trying to make bricks without straw, or a pudding without flour—it can't be done. In our list of exchanges there are possibly half a dozen real live, aggressive weeklies which mean something to the towns they are published in, because the town means something to them. Their advertising columns tell the story plainer than anything else, and denote the aggressive spirit of the men behind the businesses they represent.

Persistency is the main qualification for success. Genius may have its flashes, but after all, the worth-while accomplishments of life, which have helped the world at large, have only been obtained through the long, long pull against adversity and obstacles.

Prospective candidates for the mayoralty furnish a topic of conversation. At present two names have been freely mentioned as being aspirants for the office. An election would at least stir up the interest of ratepayers, and is to be more desired than an election by acclamation in which usually very little interest is shown.

Must Be Over Thirty

Now Ruling Bars Younger Women From Canadian Senate

The Ottawa Evening Citizen says: "The first vote is a very material factor now in Canada's elections and much the larger portion of entombed women come from this class, but they are debarred from the Senate despite the decision of the Privy Council as to women's eligibility for senatorial office."

"Among the qualifications for the Upper House, it is found, is one prescribing that anyone appointed must be of the full age of thirty years. This cuts out the really young woman. There is no such prohibition in the House where one of twenty-one can be seated, providing she can get elected."

Grain In Storage

Shrinkage In Volume Reported Coming October 22nd

Grain storage in Prairie bins shrank in volume on October 22nd for the first time during the month. Up to that time there had been a continued rise. The total storage in the Prairie elevators amounted at that date to 86,791,000 bushels, compared with a capacity of 178,000,000 bushels.

A brand-new silk faille silk crepe that is youthful, versatile and charmingly slender in its Princess styling, with fitted bodice and flaring hem. Shirring at either side of bodice through waistline creates a swathed effect that adds a soft fulness without detracting from its molded line.

The deep pointed effect of bodice at front edge is particularly attractive. A jacket front in pointed outline contributes further smartness placed to keep narrow shoulder line. The bodice is contrasted with a V-neck outline that ends at center back. Long tight fitting sleeves will fluff inserted in darts.

Style No. 2974 designed in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 42 inches will add chic femininity to your new wardrobe.

It is easily made and is a remarkable design.

In black sheer velvet, it is perfectly adorable. The edge of jabot frill of bodice and frills of sleeves can be pleated for neat finish. No trimming required and only about two hours of time. Think of it! Choose now!

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DAIL

Copyright, 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, is loved by Grace Farrell, the cigarette girl, but he does not know that. He marries her. When he is called to New York, living in a cheap hotel, wears shabby clothes, his money in his pocket, he may slip terribly, but he may be perfectly all right; he may have gone on a world cruise to forget, or he may have gone to the west country for a while.

"What do you think's become of him?" asked Marcus of another songwriter.

"The river?" suggested the composer.

"No," Marcus shook his head vigorously. "I don't think Al would take his own life. He loves his boy too much. He'll live for that boy—you'll see."

He may slip terribly, but he may be perfectly all right; he may have gone on a world cruise to forget, or he may have gone to the west country for a while.

So the conjectures passed from mouth to mouth, down the White Way. But Al was still in New York, living in a cheap hotel, wearing shabby clothes, his money in his pocket, he may slip terribly, but he may be perfectly all right; he may have gone on a world cruise to forget, or he may have gone to the west country for a while.

But after he ceased to visit Blackie Joe's and became so definitely a figure belonging to Broadway, this spirit of love became like the last note of an echo—it seemed to pass away lightly.

Before that he had been a part of life, afterward he was just a graceful and vague figure who had once stirred the heart of a man who had been able to do that since time immemorial.

Grace had stayed on at Blackie Joe's. She had no solicitation talent to carry her to the peaks of Broadway success; she could not sing and dance professionally. She possessed a lovely and delicate beauty, unswerving loyalty, keen intuition, plain common-sense and a frank, unspoiled nature. These qualities, which may be among the most important in life, may not win fame for the persons who possess them.

Grace was obscure, but still she had scored her little successes. After Al was swallowed up by Broadway, Blackie Joe, himself, had kept a kindly eye on the girl and saw that she was well used to be a cigarette girl.

At Blackie Joe's place near the village. As she stared intently at him. Al dodged rapidly round the nearest corner.

Grace's eyes followed Al in astonishment as he hurried around the corner and disappeared. At her first glimpse of him she had not been sure of his identity; it was a year since she had seen him and during that year he had almost become a different person in appearance. His little, self-confident walk was gone, his head was only a head he understood. He could only wander through the Ghetto, the waterfront, through Little Italy. He made friends with odd characters—fish peddlers, park-bums, old Irish cabbies. But always he was drifting downward.

Then came the day when he happened to glance across the street and saw her. Surely that was Grace, who used to be a cigarette girl at Blackie Joe's place near the village. As she stared intently at him. Al dodged rapidly round the nearest corner.

Grace had felt terribly sorry for Grace after Al went off to marry Molly—he was the only living man with the exception of Grace herself, who had any conception of the deep love the former cigarette girl had for Al. Blackie often asked himself—Why on earth wasn't Al able to see that? When Blackie read of Molly's desertion he nodded sadly.

Now, as Grace pursued her way, a flood of memories swept across her mind—Al as he used to look in his waiter clothes, Al as he had sung his first love ballad—"Always"—to Molly on the floor of Blackie's club, Al as she had once seen him at an uptown night club, resplendent in fine clothes, Al as she had seen his picture in the papers with Molly and his baby Junior.

Grace still recalled how the news of Junior's arrival had sent a stabbing throb through her heart that she did not understand. Then came an intense longing to see the baby that Al fathered. But that too was a faint memory—now.

It was afternoon and Grace was not due at Blackie's until evening. However, she wanted to tell the night club owner her news, she changed her course and mounted the familiar, shabby steps. The main room was dark and deserted, but Blackie was in his office. He glanced up as Grace entered.

Centres Of Lumbering

The Ottawa Valley became the most important centre of commercial activity in the lumber industry of Canada with the beginning of the trade in rafting its square timber to Quebec for export. The Georgian Bay and Rainy River districts were later opened up and although the industry is now established over the entire Dominion, these districts are still among the chief lumbering regions in Eastern Canada.

Australia, New Zealand and Argentina are the greatest wool-producing centres.

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar a half mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary.

For a few cents a day, two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago.

It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's because many of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Aspirin for immediate relief.

clothes were old and nondescript, his face was thinner, and the cheerful kindly glow in his eyes had vanished.

Nevertheless, the man who stopped at her in sudden recognition for a moment was Al—she was sure of it. She walked back to the corner and followed the direction he had taken. But either Al moved faster than she or he had darted up an alley, for she saw no sign of him. Thoughtfully she retraced her steps; her mood and expression sobered by the tragic implications of the sight she had just witnessed. So that was Al, breezy, wise-cracking, generous Al—the man who had been the hero of her girlhood three years ago, the man she had loved so devotedly! That was the youthful singing waiter whose rapid rise to fame had been one of the romances of Broadway and whose disappearance into obscurity had been one of the mysteries of the Street of Light.

Grace had followed Al's career with the keenest attention from the fateful time when he left Blackie's night club until recently. She knew every story of his triumphs, every version of his disastrous marriage, as they were gossip about in cabaret circles, up-town and down, and as they appeared in newspapers and theatrical weeklies. For a year after Al left Blackie's he loved for him had remained, first a throbbing recollection within her, then a faint murmur from the past.

But after he ceased to visit Blackie's and became so definitely a figure belonging to Broadway, this spirit of love became like the last note of an echo—it seemed to pass away lightly.

Before that he had been a part of life, afterward he was just a graceful and vague figure who had once stirred the heart of a man who had been able to do that since time immemorial.

Grace had stayed on at Blackie Joe's. She had no solicitation talent to carry her to the peaks of Broadway success; she could not sing and dance professionally. She possessed a lovely and delicate beauty, unswerving loyalty, keen intuition, plain common-sense and a frank, unspoiled nature. Wins Asquith Cup

Miss Pearl Miller, a New Canadian Is Awarded Coveted Trophy

Miss Pearl Miller, 19, a new Canadian, is this year's winner of the silver challenge cup presented to the pupils of Asquith school by the late Earl of Oxford and Asquith. The trophy is awarded annually to the most proficient pupil.

Miss Miller, now attending Saskatchewan Normal School, came to Canada from England in 1924, and was then sent to speak English. From August, 1925, to June, 1926, she attended public school in London, and covered the work of grades 1 to 6 inclusive. In 1926 she moved to Asquith, and took her high school work in the next three years.

BABY OWN TABLETS WIN GREAT PRAISE

Many Mothers Always Keep Them In The House

Thousands of mothers state that they know of no other medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets—these tablets keep the child healthy as a preventive of childhood ailments, or if sickness does suddenly grip their little ones they feel safe with such a remedy at hand.

Concerning the use of the Tablets Mrs. Dona Ploudre, Tincwick, Que., writes: "I have nothing but praise for Baby's Own Tablets. They are the only medicine I have ever found for my two little ones and I am glad to state that the Tablets have always kept them in perfect health. I always keep them with me and I always keep a box in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They regulate the bowels, stimulate the stomach and thus banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make the cutting of teeth painless. The Tablets are absolutely free from all injurious drugs. They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Wilmans' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

True Friendship Is Rare

But Few People Make Any Effort To Maintain It

We should never let a friend go out of our lives, if we can by any possibility help it. If misfortune standing aside, let them be quickly set aright. Friendship is a rare and sacred treasure to be thrown away lightly. And yet many people are not careful to retain friends. Some lose them through inattention, failing to maintain those little amenities, courtesies, kindnesses which cost so little and yet are hooks of steel to grapple and hold our friends.

Harry Proudlock, patient in the hospital, was out on Monday, endeavoring to observe Armistice Day the best way he could, despite his crutches, and proudly wearing the flower of remembrance, the poppy.
Harry had a complaint, and one that was quite legitimate. Not a service, not a poppy sold in Coleman, and to think of all that the day meant, was the tenor of Harry's remarks, which were undoubtedly justified, a thought which was shared by many others. It was a sad reflection on Coleman, and one which it is hoped will not occur again.
